

SITCA, (Systems Information Technology Caribbean) is an Information Technology Consulting Business; the brainchild of young entrepreneur Kadesh T. Bailey.

Bailey has been working in the Information Technology field since graduating from the Antigua State College, and has worked at various local, regional, and international institutions.

By analyzing your business' work processes, the team at SITCA is able to automate manual tasks and create efficient and easier ways of getting the job done by using technology and their expertise.

*Systems Information Technology Caribbean, SITCA, has been featured in the latest edition of the BusinessFocus (www.businessfocusantigua.com) magazine. The magazine highlighted SITCA's products and services and even gave a brief history on the Manager, Kadesh Bailey.

SITCA

feels quite humbled to be mentioned in the magazine and is hopeful of other publications taking suit.
