SITCA, Systems Information Technology Caribbean, launched their web site after months of preperation on May 1st 2010. The web site showcases their products and services catered specifically to service the specific needs of businesses and people wanting to take their product further.

The core team are a series of industry trained and certified Information Technology professionals who have realised the growing need for sound Information Technology solutions in a market where such service is lacking. SITCA is confident by providing a high-end service they will be able to assist you in realising your business dreams utilising Information Technology supplied solutions.